

Nursing

20-MONTH ASSOCIATE DEGREE OF NURSING

It takes a special calling to be a nurse. Nurses are the first line of care and the backbone of day-to-day operations in many healthcare settings, especially in today's society. If you're looking to join this rewarding career field, you can start your journey here with Laurel College of Technology's newest Associate Degree of Nursing 20-month Nursing program.

The various benefits of being a nurse already have you considering this fulfilling career and our hands-on Associates degree in Nursing can help you get there!

You'll learn skills like:

- ◆ Hands-on patient care
- ◆ Recording patients' histories and symptoms
- ◆ Operating medical equipment
- ◆ Proper communication skills with patients
- ◆ Critical decision-making skills
- ◆ Learn to work in a team to determine the best care options
- ◆ The latest in healthcare technologies

CONTENT COURSES

(For complete course outlines, see our program catalog at laurel.edu)

Anatomy & Physiology I / II
Health Assessment
Human Growth & Development
Pharmacology
Fundamentals of Nursing
Pathophysiology for Nursing Care
Mental Health Nursing
Med-Surg Nursing I / II
Family Health in Nursing
Simulation Experience for Nursing
Professional Role Transition
Certification Prep

Ready to start your application?
Scan this QR code with your smartphone to begin! Or go to laurel.edu

* Students who complete this program will receive an Associate Degree of Nursing (Occupational)

This program is available at our Morgantown campus